

REMARKS

The withdrawal of the indication of allowable subject matter is based on an improper interpretation of the claim language. The "edge" and "center" of the field of view are not recited elements of claim 67. Claim 67 is fully supported in the parent 1996 disclosure of Applicants (Fig. 10) and antedates the effective date of SCHMIDT. The possibility that Applicant's discovery could be expanded by others by subsequent insertion of additional features such as center beams or multi-colored displays does not detract from the invention as claimed. The SCHMIDT reference has an effective 1997 date and subsequent to the 1996 invention of Applicants.

Further examination and reconsideration are requested.
